

Angela Ewell-Madison
Director of Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs

Angela Ewell-Madison serves as Director of Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs for the U.S. Economic Development Administration (EDA) within the U.S. Department of Commerce. The office serves as the focal point for interactions between the Congress of the United States and EDA.

With over 15 years of experience in strategic planning and executive leadership, Angela coordinates, manages and oversees all legislative and congressional activities contributing to the EDA mission of leading the federal economic development agenda.

Before joining EDA, Angela served as a Legislative Analyst with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Program Analyst and Acting Director of the Office of Project Management in the U.S. Department of Commerce's Office of the Secretary, and as the Director of Congressional Affairs for the U.S. Department of Commerce's Technology Administration.

Angela holds a dual MBA/MPA from Howard University, and was a Brookings Institute Fellow. She earned her B.S.B.A. degree in Marketing from the University of Louisiana – Lafayette.